

Hopeless

Saturday night stains cracked lips remember kisses red wine and moonlight

Buzzing in the sky
weary wisdom from the stars grass grows between toes

Haunted hallways sigh half-empty bed, full nightmares the din of absence

Weeping by the sea
midnight dance with icy waves holding close a ghost

Travel through ether follow footprints like way stones unity in space

Futile plans written on the boughs of budding trees scent of spring on snow
